COMMUNITY CHARGE

I spoke again to Mr Turnbull to confirm your and Lady Howe's personal position as regards the community charge. The position is as follows.

You have decided to register as your principal residence at Summerfold, and so you will both be liable to the relevant Warwickshire community charge. On the basis that Glengall is rented out, the tenants will be liable to the community charge there (if it were not rented, you would be liable to pay the standard charge). For both Atterbury Street and Dorneywood, which are official residences, the liability to pay the standard charge falls on the owner. In the case of Dorneywood this is the Trustees of Dorneywood. In the case of Atterbury Street this is the Ministry of Defence, although in practice arrangements have been made for this liability to be transferred to the Privy Council Office for the duration of your residence in Atterbury Street - in line with the arrangement whereby the Privy Council Office is paying rent to M O D for the Atterbury Street property.
