BILATERAL WITH THE FOREIGN SECRETARY

You have a bilateral with the Foreign Secretary tomorrow. I understand that he has only two main subjects to raise:

Germany

He will give you an account of the 2+4 meeting in Paris today. It is not impossible that he will also want to touch on developments at the weekend. I wonder whether we ought not to start thinking now of a bilateral with Chancellor Kohl fairly soon after the holidays.

Middle East

He has had some discussion with Jim Baker about the way ahead and wants to fill you in on this.

Other subjects which might come up are Mrs. Parish, Kenya, your Aspen visit and the Soviet biological warfare programme (on which Jim Baker will have spoken to Shevardnadze by tomorrow).
